The Church And The Counter Culture

The "counter culture" has its own music, hair style, clothes, psychedelic lights and political philosophy. It also has its own "religion", a conglomerate of Hinduism, astrology, I Ching, Tarot, magic and drugs, not necessarily in that order.

Christian churches today wonder what they have done wrong to turn youth off and point them toward the East. But the churches are also becoming more self-critical today and are beginning to take seriously the criticisms of youth. They are also beginning to realize all over again that they are here to serve man and his needs, no matter what culture he belongs to, no matter what life style, no matter how old or how young. Yet, what church do you know that could relate to counter culture youth?

The American Lutheran Church, one of the three major bodies of Lutheranism in the U.S. has begun to try to answer this question on the Monterey Peninsula through the creation of an alternative church model--service agency called MISSION: POSSIBLE. Here is a ministry especifically designed for the counter culture, not in a patronizing manner, but in honesty toward meeting the many -needs of youth "movement".

The director of the project, the Reverend Richard J. Hooper, is himself a member of the counter culture who has a beard and hair down past his shoulders.

The project is not necessarily aimed at bringing masses of youth back into churches, but rather toward taking the love of Christ out into the streets and communes of the "hippie" world. But MISSION: POSSIBLE is more than just words, it is a community service agency which has begun to earn the respect of much of the "straight" community.

The project currently runs a "half-way house", House of the Rising Son in Monterey, which was created for the purpose of giving youth who have been in trouble with drugs, the law, parents or their own hang-ups and fears a place to live where they can stabilize their lives, begin to learn the meaning of love and trust and to grow as whole persons. House of the Rising Son stands half way between the past and the future of young lives, and seeks to create in youth the ability to survive and grow in a world which desperately needs their help toward reform.

MISSION: POSSIBLE seeks to affirm the higher goals of the counter culture: love, peace, truth and justice as complimentary to the message and life style of Jesus the Christ who was the greatest revolutionary of all time. Thus it not only relates to and serves youth, but does the same for "straight" churches, communicating to them the message and ideals of today's new young people.

At the House of the Rising Son one will find a "hip" but creative and stable environment where youth come to live for periods determined by the nature of their needs. At present the House has received referrals from Monterey County Probation Department, Welfare Department, Suicide Prevention and Aquarian House. At present it has a household of seven members, including the house "parents", Rev. and Mrs. Hooper.

Besides the half-way house, Rev. Hooper works among youth on the streets, has a column in the local "underground" newspaper and teaches classes at the University for Man on the MPC campus. He is alos presently preaching at St. Philip's Lutheran Church in Carmel Valley.

Future plans for MISSION: POSSIBLE include a radio program, spiritual family communes and a "free" church. The project, like most young and struggling service agencies needs the support of the community, both physical and monetary. MISSION: POSSIBLE is a non-profit corporation and all contributions to its programs are tax deductable. Further information may be obtained by calling Rev. Hooper and other staff members at 373-3889.

Harambe, Aquarius Receive Funds

The Harambe Medical Clinic in Seaside and Project Aquarius in Monterey have been assured financial and technical assistance by the Monterey County Board of Supervisors.

In unanimous decisions, Harambe was awarded $5,000 on the condition that the city puts up matching funds for the program, while Project Aquarius has been guaranteed up to $30,000.

Harambe is seeking to provide full medical clinic services for low income residents of the city, while Project Aquarius is aimed at combatting drug abuse on the Peninsula.

The supervisors directly appropriated the $5,000 for Harambe from the County Health Department's budget. However, the appropriation is contingent on similar action by the Seaside city council, which will hear a presentation by Harambe tomorrow.

The supervisors did decide, though, that Seaside did not have to put up solely funds. Either funds or services or a combination of the two would be acceptable to fulfill the requirements.

For Project Aquarius no funds were directly appropriated. However, the board did agree to sign a joint power agreement with Peninsula cities and school districts to continue the program once federal funds ran out.

Request Ires Dolan

Seaside Mayor J. B. "Joe" Dolan voiced an angry reaction to a request from Douglas Davis of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War to use redevelopment territory in Seaside as a stagin area for a portest march into Fort Ord.

The request by Davis was made at the last meeting of the Redevelopment Agency.

Davis asked for use of vacant land in the northern portion of the Gateway Project for about two hours September 5 and 6, when VVAW members will be coming here for a march on Fort Ord.

The purpose of the march, according to Davis, is to demand for an investigation of racism in the Army and to show support for Private Billy D. Smith, a black soldier accused of "fragging" two officers in Vietnam.

Since the Gateway Project house the Monterey Peninsula Auto Center and since the contract with the dealers prohibits activities there which are not related to the automobile business without the approval of the auto dealers association, Agency Director Finnly Sutton said he would contact the association about the use of the land.

It was following this that Mayor Dolan arose from the audience and went to the speaker's rostrum, where he said that as a private citizen "I am opposed to any of this kind of activity in Seaside."

Dolan added, with an angry quiver in his voice, that the last time something of this nature occurred in Seaside, he was denied his civil rights because Highway 1 was closed for two hours.

He told the agency that if it allowed the marchers to use the Gateway area, it should come before the city council for a permit.

Party For Seniors Is Planned

"In the Gold Old Summertime", a special party for senior citizens, will be held this coming Monday evening, August 7, at the New Monterey Neighborhood Center, 280 Dickman Avenue, corner of Lightouse Avenue, in New Monterey.

Starting at 5:30 p.m., this food-and-fun party is co-sponsored by the New Monterey Neighborhood Center, and by "Meals On Wheels", the new non-profit organization providing nourishing meals to elderly and handicapped shut-ins.

Features of this summertime, come one, come all get-together, will be a special spaghetti supper for only one dollar, a sing-along, and entertainment by Ed Smith and his hot banjo and by F. Harold Ralph and his equally hot accordian.

For further information, please phone Romaine Wetmore at the New Monterey Neighborhood Center, 372-8121, extension 28t, or Sally Griffin at "Meals On Wheels", 373-4421.

Cigarette Tax

State Controller Hugh Flournoy has announced the distribution of $8,070,244 to counties and cities as the July apportionment of cigarette tax.

Monterey County received $11,019.92, and Seaside got $11,259.22. The 58 counties' share was $1,516,762 and the cities' share totaled $6,553,482.

Fun Day Is Saturday

This Saturday, August 5, will be Seaside Community Fun Day and will feature a benefit drawing.

Sponsored by the Harambe Medical Clinic, in conjunction with local organizations, merchants and the city of Seaside, it will be held at Martin Luther King Junior High School from noon until 6 p.m.

The drawing, with chances at $1 per ticket, will be held at 5:30 p.m. First prize is 8 nights in Honolulu, courtesy of the Seaside Travel Agency. Second prize is a 16" Philco Color Television Set and third prize is a Philco Stereo Radio/Tape Deck, both courtesy of Bartoli TV Sales.

Winners of the drawing need not be present to win.

There is no admission charge for this day of live entertainment, games and pony rides for the kids, arts and crafts displays and good food.

Seaside Sears Becomes Retail Store

On Tuesday, August 1, the Sears catalog stores in Monterey and Seaside became the Sears retail stores there. Manager Keith Brunkow said that there will be some differences to the customer, although the stores will look the same.

"What it means is this: The Sears-Monterey and Seaside units became an arm of the full-line Salinas Sears store, instead of serving as a catalog sales office," Brunkow said. "And the primary benefit to the customer is that the advertised sales bargains of appliances in the Salinas store are now offered in the Monterey and Seaside units as well," he said. Another advantage to the Monterey and Seaside communities is in speed of delivery.

Brunkow pointed out that delivery of merchandise will now come from the stock rooms of the Salinas store instead of the retail distribution center in Los Angeles. "Hopefully, in many cases we'll be able to deliver goods that a customer orders much quicker since the goods will be so close at hand", Brunkow said.

"Acutally the conversion of the Monterey and Seaside Sears stores from a catalog operation to a retail operation is part of a historical evolution," said Brunkow. "Sears, Roebuck and Co. began as a catalog operation and didn't even get into the retail business until the automobile started changing people's shopping habits in the late 1920s. Sears opened its first retail store in Salinas in 1948.

"Prior to 1948, Sears served this area exclusively from the pages of the famous Sears, Roebuck catalog. Since then, of course, residents have continued to use the options of catalog or retail shopping with Sears, whichever was more convenient for them," said Brunkow.

One of the main reasons that the Monterey and Seaside units were changed from a catalog sales office to a retail satellite was because of the population density in the Salinas area, causing advertising of the Salinas special prices to reach customers around the Monterey and Seaside stores as well.

"More catalog offices are being opened every year, but they are being opened in areas which cannot be served adequately by retail operations such as the Salinas/Monterey/Seaside market," Brunkow said.

"Catalog sales account for over 20 percent of the Sears total volume nationally and the catalog business grows every year. Catalog shopping will still be an important part of the Monterey and Seaside stores offering the customer some 275,000 items just as the catalog department is one of the most important departments in every Sears store.

Brunkow said that the same familar faces will be at the store and the store will be doing business as usual.

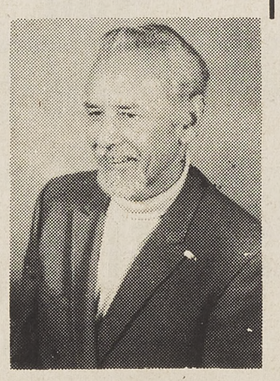
By Clint Porter
(In the absence of Andy Barragan)



A.E. Barragan

If you see a wee bit of dismay on my face today it is because my boss, Andy Barragan, is once again back in Community Hospital. Probably his condition is not serious enough for me to be feeling low, but I can not help it. I know I am an old worry wart, but let's light a few of those candles laying around the house. It will help. It seems that he absorbed a little more water in his body than was excreted. After they get his reservoir down to a comfortable level, he will be trotting back home again.

Last Sunday while sitting at his bedside he and I found ourselves wrapped in a conversation of astral travel and conscious-awareness. What started that was something I had read in the Sunday Examiner about the astronaut's lives being changed after they made trips to the moon and back. You may have read about it. Well, Andy said he was not a bit surprised. His reason was that this planet we live on is surrounded by it's own gravity, atmosphere and ether. This ether we inhale and exhale all our lives. Whether it be pure or impure we are not the judge of that. Suppose our subconscious mind is connected someway to this atmosphere, and we assume that the atmosphere is considered "evil" just for examples sake. Now when we leave from this vicinity to another gravity, another atmosphere, another type of ether, and our subconscious mind is aware of this, and this new venture turns out to be a travelling to a "good"

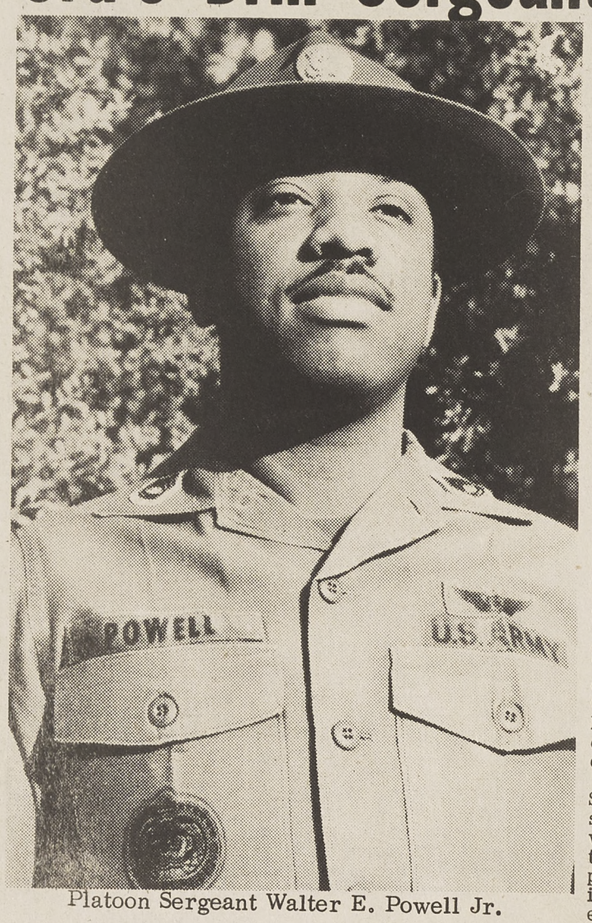
William Powell, Jr., Is Fort Ord's Drill Sergeant of Year



Platoon Sergeant Walter E. Powell Jr.

Platoon Sergeant William E. Powell Jr., of the 1st Brigade, has been presented a plaque by Lieutenant General A.D. Surles Jr., commanding general of Sixth U.S. Army, signifying that PSgt. Powell has been selected as the 1972 Outstanding Drill Sergeant of Sixty Army.

The veteran soldier has already been named Ft. Ord's Outstanding Drill Sergeant and has just been selected by the Salinas Chamber of Commerce as the Outstanding Soldier of the Quarter at Ft. Ord.

Along with PSgt Powell, five outstanding drill sergeants from each of the four brigades and Ft. Ord's Training Command were presented $50 U.S. Savings Bonds by Major General H. G. Moore, Ft. Ord's commanding general . They were: Platoon Sergeants Calvin W. Perry, 2d Brigade; Ronald E. Lawson, 3rd Brigade; Harry E. Palmer, 4th Brigade; and Master Sergeant James K. Lea, III, Training Command.

Platoon Sergeant Powell has received a $100 U.S. Savings Bond for winning the Ft. Ord Drill Sergeant Award and a $100 trading certificate from the Salinas Chamber of Commerce. He will go to the Continental Army Headquarters, Ft. Monroe, Virginia, to compete with other Army drill sergeants for the title of the 1972 Outstanding Drill Sergean of the Year, and the Stephen Ailes Award.

Powell says, "The days are long gone when a drill sergeant could say: 'This is the way it is because it is'."

Platoon Sergeant Walter E. Powell, a thorough professional in training men to be soldiers, takes pride in his training philosophy and methodology, and believes that "Leadership is called for now more than ever before. Today's non-commissioned officer must LEAD--not drive."

And what PSgt Powell belives in and does must be right--if his record as a drill sergeant is any indication.

In March 1967, he was the "Distinguished Graduate" in his class of 90 at the Ft. Bliss, Texas, Drill Sergeant Academy. He spent the next 19 months as a "Hat" in Company C, 3rd Battalion, 3rd Brigade at Ft. Ord. During this time, his unit was selected as "Best Company of the Cycle" for nine consecutive times and was twice selected as "Outstanding Unit" of the Brigade.

He was assigned to the 188th Assault Helicopter Company in Vietnam in October 1969, where he served as operations sergeant, and later as company first sergeant. After he returned to the United States in October of 1969, he came back to Company C--and helped his unit earn "Best Company of the Cycle" in December of that year.

Reflecting on his tour in Vietnam, PSgt Powell credits his success as first sergeant to the "Backing of an outstanding company commander--Major (now Lieutenant Colonel) John A. Britton (who now is commander of Ft. Ord's Reception Station)."

Platoon Sergeant Powell's men in the 118th said this about him: "He's fair. He won't chew you out in front of the troops. And he means exactly what he says."

While he was in Vietnam, he was recommended for a direct commission.

From January to March, 1970, he was back at Ft. Bliss --this time as the senior tactical non-commissioned officer of the NCO Officer Candidate School.

When he returned to Ft. Ord from the Texas post, he was assigned to Company A, 3rd Battalion, 1st BCT Brigade. He has served as a platoon sergeant, the senior drill sergeant, training NCO, and as first sergeant on three occasions in Company A.

In December of 1971, PSgt Powell was selected by the Ft. Ord command to explain the training center's Experimental Volunteer Army Training Program to key officials at the Army's headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany, and to the officers and NCO's of three Volunteer Army test sites in Germany.

The Army officials in Germany asked this West Coast training center to send a drill sergeant who is "well-versed and a firm believer in the Modern Volunteer Army Program" to familiarize commanders and sergeants with the Ft. Ord system of basic and advanced individual training.

During his week in Germany, PSgt Powell briefed personnel of the 2d Brigade, 3rd Armored Division at Gelnhausen; the 2d Brigade, 3rd Infantry Division at Kitzingen; and the 1st Brigade, 1st Armored Division at Illesheim. Each of these units was a "VOLAR Test Site," consisting of an infantry battalion and a tank battalion, and they had been receiving men trained at Ft. Ord.

After his European briefings were over, he returned to the United States and did the same thing at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri, in January of 1972.

Being selected "Drill Sergeant of the Year" is nothing new for PSgt Powell. He was 1st Brigade's Drill Sergeant of the Year in 1971, and made it two-in-a-row this year. He was runner-up to Platoon Sergeant Gernot Klingenberger, who earned the honor in 1971 and went on to become the U.S. Army's "Drill Sergeant of the Year" and winner of the Stephen Ailes Award to the Outstanding Drill Sergeant of the Year.

According to PSgt Powell, the greatest challenge to today's drill sergeant is "To sell today's Army to the trainee. You can do this by showing that you care about him as an individual, as well as a member of the Army team."

Commenting on today's soldier, he continues:

"Today's young soldier wants to be trained. He wants discipline. And he wants to feel needed and necessary to accomplish his unit's and the Army's mission.

"Training has to be challenging...as well as functional," he stresses.

Despite the full-time requirements of his job, PSgt Powell has bettered himself intellectually by taking time to earn more than 250 credit hours in military correspondence courses, and has been attending Monterey Peninsula College three nights a week for the past 18 months--where he has earned 29 semester hours of credit and maintained a "B" average in pursuit of a degree in political science.

He appreciates the value of formal education in striving for, and attaining, personal and professional goals, but he also realizes the need for persistence and self-discipline in reaching these goals.

"Formal education is a necessity in dealing with young men coming into the service today. It helps you to understand today's problems, and how they affect youth."

He joined the Army in November 1957, and took basic training at Ft. Jackson, S.C. In 1958 he went to Germany where he served as a military policeman and driver for the 57th Ordnance Group Commander. Returning to the United States in April 1960, he was assigned to Batter "B" of the 61st Air Defense Artillery's 4th Battalion at Byron, Ga. There he was a senior launcher crewamn until he returned to Germany in 1962. In Germany, he was an assistant section chief, and later section chief, of a Nike Hercules unit.

In July 1964, he attended the Seventh Army Non-Commissioned Officer Academy--where he graduated in the top third of his class--and was promoted to Sergeant. Returning to the United States in December 1965, he served successively with a Nike Hercules unit in St. Louis and with Battery "A", 3rd Battalion, 56th Artillery (twin 40's and quad 50's) at Ft. Bliss. Upon deactivation of that unit, he volunteered for the Ft. Bliss Drill Sergeant Academy.

On the subject of "NCO Prestige," he forthrightly states, "An NCO makes his own prestige by the way he carries himself...relates to those around him...and sets the example."

There is no doubt in his mind that "Being an NCO is a full-time job."

atmosphere. One that is pleasing to our subconscious. Then we return! The chaos created within our own subconscious mind (the rediculous to the sublime, then the sublime back to the rediculous) could be pretty hard to adjust to. Once you have bit the fruit and found it sweet, no other fruit will satisfy you unless it also is sweet.

At about this point I interrupted Andy and said that if a man travelled even farther than the moon, to the closest star, he probably could find even more peace or serenity, and still farther, more peaceful, and so on into outer space. He immediately said, not neccessarily so. Who knows whether an enity or living existence hadn't polluted the atmosphere surrounding another planet, or star, or moon, and this atmosphere could possibly even be worse than around earth. Then whoever returned to earth may try to change the thinking of people in close contact with him, to conform with the evil of another place. And this just about proved to him and me that no living thing ever existed on our moon to emit "bad vibes" to it's occupants.

We continued to talk, arriving eventually on the subject of "perpetual history" from the beginning of time, into the future. This discussion led us to Lobsang Rampa and his book, "Wisdom of the Ancients." Lobsang described in detail the Akasha. Akasha is that which fills all space between worlds, molecules, and everything. It is the matter from which everything else is formed. Then there is the Akashic Record: Imagine that you are a photographer who has ALWAYS EXISTED and will always exist. You have an unlimited supply of film and a means of developing it. From the very beginning of time you have photographed everything that ever happened anywhere to anyone and everyone. You are still photographing events of the present day. That is the Akashic Record. Everything that has ever happened is impressed upon the ether as are light impulses recorded on the film, or even a voice impressed on recording tape.

Because of the milti-demensional world in which it is recorded, there also can be recorded the very strong probabilities which effect everyone on earth of off earth.

When considering the Akashic Record, it is worth remembering that if you could travel instantly to a far distant planet and you had a special instrument, the light which was arriving from the Earth might show what was happening on Earth a hundred, a thousand, or ten thousand years ago. With this instrument, your special one, you would be able to see the Earth as it was a thousand years ago.

The Akashic Record goes beyond that because it shows the strong probability of what is going to happen. The probilities confronting a nation are much stronger, are much more certain, than in the case of individuals, and those people who are specially trained can enter the astral state and consult the Akashic Record to see what has happened, what is happening and what are the terrifically strong probabilities for the future. It is like going to some theatre and seeing a film. If you know from the program what film is on at a certain time you can go and see just that. At about this point Andy and I were interrupted by the nurse, who began to fiddle around with him, and then by visitor after visitor. Because the room was becoming a bit congested, I left. As I was leaving, I said to Andy: "I'll see you there." He smiled and waved.

We have enough readers of this column to transform the world right now, if only their thoughts were always on the right side. But, unfortunately, they suppose their thoughts are their own, and so a large part of their thinking cancels out the rest of their thinking. Many people enjoy dreaming about the wicked deeds they are condemning in other people. That is why scandal is so popular. We need to mobilize the minds of you people of good will so that they will form a mighty mass attack of good thoughts. Then, we, all together will tip the scales the other way, will lift the world upward to a new high, in spite of the selfish little thoughts of those mean people.

Fix your thoughts upon what ought to come to pass, and not upon the things you dislike. Let the things we oppose die of neglect. Remember, WE HELP EVERYTHING WE THINK ABOUT - even when we are thinking against it.

Come on, light those candles for Andy. Please.

Supervisor Reports

Loren Smith

Drug abuse and youth counseling problems continue to haunt us on the Monterey Peninsula as they do throughout the County and indeed everywhere we look. Recently most of the larger Public Agencies in our area have decided to join forces in an all-out effort to help our young people in their struggle to combat this social illness.

At this week's Board of Supervisors meeting I was pleased to initiate the motion to have Monterey County become a full-fledged member of a new organization to be known as THE MONTEREY PENINSULA YOUTH CRISIS-INFORMATION PROJECT. This new organization will take over and continue the work which has been carried on by 'Project Aquarious' and will expand into other fields of youth oriented problems.

The new organization is expected to be supported by all of the Cities on the Monterey Peninsula...all area School Districts...the County Board of Education and the County of Monterey. This project shall develop and implement a vigorous total community awareness program to provide accurate information on drug useage and related problems. A Board of Directors will be composed of one representative and one alternate appointed by the governing body of each paticipating agency under a joint powers agreement and it will be the responsibility of this board to decide upon a location, elect the officers and employ necessary office staff.

Monterey County has allocated $30,000 for it's share of financial support for the first year of operation of this newly formed agency and I have great hopes that it will succeed.

On a related item it is with a great deal of pleasure to be able to report that upon my motion that was passed unanimously...the County of Monterey awarded $5,000 to Seaside's HARAMBE CLINIC...to carry on it's valuable work for a 90 day period and until they receive financial assistance thru the County Mental Health Program.

My very best wishes for every succes to both HARAMBE and the YOUTH CRISIS PROJect.

Letter to the Editor

Editor: My reaction to Mr. Haddad's letters published in last week's POST was one of surprise and concern. I had respect for Mr. Haddad in running a clean and agressive primary campaign. He made no personal attack on any candidate that I know of. Therefore, I am surprised that in announcing his endorsement of Mr. Smith he found it necessary to use sly political innuendoes to question my sincerity and integrity, and to attempt to label me and my supporters as "extremist."

In his letter to Mr. Smith he stated:

"Your November opponent lacks your sincerity, and as you know I'm an idealist in that I firmly believe that a publicly elected official must possess a high degree of integrity."

Because "sincerity" is an absolute, Mr. Haddad implies that I am less than sincere and as the definition of sincerity includes honesty, he also implies that I am less than honest. Because of the sentence structure, the additional implication is that I do not have sufficient integrity to be a county supervisor. I have a reputation for honesty and high intergrity and will defend any attack upon it.

In the letter to Mr. Smith, Mr. Haddad also stated:

"This is a peculiar year for politics. Your re-election will not come easy. The Marijuana Initiative on the November ballot will further complicate this and it is expected that many McGovern-type extremist voters will turn out in great numbers."

I see absolutely no reason for the inclusion of this paragraph in such a public endorsement letter. In all honesty I don't see what the Marijuana Initiative has to do with Mr. Smith's re-election unless, unknown to me, he has endorsed the Initiative. In all logic I do not understand what Mr. Haddad's expectation of a large turnout of "McGovern-type extremist voters" has to do with Mr. Smith's re-election. Why then did Mr. Haddad incorporate these irrelevancies in his letter? The obvious subliminal message is that Mr. Smith's re-election will not come easy because thousands of marijuana smoking "McGovern-type extremist voters" will turn out in great numbers to vote for me. The additional initimation is that to vote for me means that the voter is at least a "McGovern-type extremist." The logical extension of this leads to the utterly ridiculous conclusion that the over 3,500 citizens who voted for me in Junde had been or will turn into marijuana smoking "McGovern-type extremist voters" by November 7.

Mr. Smith's re-election will not come easy, but for reasons not mentioned in Mr. Haddad's letter. We little guys want a say in what goes on in county government. We who are "Nixon-types" and "McGovern-types" want to be heard at the county level of government. We who are mortgaged to the hilt and who pay taxes until it hurts wonder who's getting the benefit; we want a "piece of the action." The old politics and the old policies have not represented us and have not been adequate to meet our needs and reasonable expectations. My candidacy not only gives the voter a choice but the opportunity for a positive change in leadership.

The labeling of people by innuendo as "extremist" will not win the election for Mr. Smith. In fact, I am sure that such tactics will be considered by the voter who in the quiet of the polling booth ultimately judges not only the candidate's qualifications and his stand on the issues, but his sincerity and integrity as well.

Mayor Dolan Reports

Joe Dolan
VIETNAM VETERANS

For the RECORD. I am a bonafide Vietnam Veteran! From April, 1965 through 26th of May, 1966 and from August, 1966 through October, 1966 I served as a Member of the U.S. Army in Vietnam. This service also qualified my right to speak out against the vocal minority of so-called Vietnam Veterans Against the War, Monterey Chapter.

In the Wednesday, June 7, 1972 edition of the Seaside POST News-Sentinel I protested the PROTESTERS who had violated my personal rights to travel on Highway 1 between Seaside and Fort Ord. Following that report I received numerous citizens' complaints pertaining to the illegal, abusive and very offensive behavior of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War as a result of their assembly in Seaside in connection with their last march and confrontation of Fort Ord.

I would also remind the Monterey Peninsula of the destruction of private property (many broken windows in business establishments) that occurred in downtown Monterey. This same VVAW was responsible when they mached on the Defense Language Institute at the Presidio of Monterey. To the best of my knowledge no one was arrested or prosecuted for these acts of violence. I am still protesting the VVAW, their irresponsible acts, their total disregard for law and order, their unlawful assemblies at Fort Ord, and the fact they deny my personal right of freedom of movement.

The image of the VVAW on the Monterey Peninsula and especially in Seaside is putrid. They now have the gall to request permission to use the Seaside Gateway Auto Plaza to assemble a rally of approximately "500 to 600 veterans and SUPPORTERS" on September 5 and 6. The gathering in question will be part of a two day program involving an investigation of racism in the U.S. Army on the 5 and a demonstration in support of Billy Dean Smith on the 6. Gateway Auto Center would be used as a rallying point for the march.

Labor Day weekend is the last weekend of the summer and the Peninsula will be overflowing with tourists and guests. Fort Ord personnel also deserve a break that long weekend prior to commencing normal training functions on September 5 and September 6.

Again--I protest the PROTESTERS! I urge the silent majority to be alert against the insidious cancer that the VVAW represents.

I am opposed to their entry to Seaside and once more I will state that I am more than suspicious of their true motives! Is Cuba's Castro financing the VVAW? Wake up Monterey Peninsula!

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE

George Meany and Charles DeGaulle had at least one thing in common. They both got a big bang out of rubbing people's fur the wrong way just for the Sam Hill of it, and Mr. Meany's refusal to endorse either George McGovern or Richard Nixon is about what Charles DeGaulle would have done if he had been here.

A few years ago George Meany came out 100 percent behind Lyndon Johnson's Vietnam efforts, and had the colossal gaul to proclaim that his 13 million member AFL-CIO union agreed with him, which was a long way from the truth. That was in the good old days, when wages were some distance ahead of prices in the wage-price spiral brought on by the war.

Unfortunately for Mr. Nixon the order has now been somewhat recersed, and prices, taxes and uncertain markets have gotten ahead of the wages, who are the good guys in the white hats. So, a few months ago the executives of the AFL-cio reversed their support of the war, not because it was illegal and immoral and was destroying America, but because it was bringing on an epidemic of pocketbook angina.

Thus, if Meany supports Nixon and the war goes on for another four years, the pocketbook angina could get worse. If he helps elect George McGovern and the war ends and a lot of union members lose a lot of jobs because of military cutbacks, the angina could still get worse, and a picture of Mr. Meany pouting in frustration is not much different from a picture of a small child picking up his marbles and threatening to home when things don't suit him.

And Mr. Meany really is not alone. Almost everyhone has some kind of a priority system and some sort of a compromise set-up to go with it. If a person's personal economy has become so closely geared to the national economy that a Presidential candidate who might rock the boat represents more of a threat than a hope, then he has to balance this unfortunate reality against the likelihood that if somebody does not rock the boat the whole country may not survive, including himself.

The thing that really helps most in making such a decision is the timing involved, which makes the immediate effects of what is taking place today and tomorrow morning much more important than what will take place a year or two years in the future.

So, Mr. Meany will have his fun, and with or without his help Mr. McGovern will very likely lose, because he threatens to rock the boat, which not that many people are ready to admit is necessary, and the whole thing is a little bit ridiculous if you can look at it objectively and dispassionately enouth. The whole earth is heading rapidly toward nuclear, overpopulation superpollution disaster, and a whole mess of supposedly intelligent human creatures walking around on it have nothing better to do than see how close they can come to the brink of the falls before they change course.

Carmel Concert Is August 11

Selyna Hovland, soprano and David Doane, tenor, will perform in concert at the Sunset Theatre in Carmel, 8th and San Carlos, August 11, 8:30 p.m.

The concert will include works by Bach, Mozart, Schubert, Schumann, Grieg and Debussy. Donna Roselius, oboist, and Edward Hollcraft, clarinetist, will assist in the concert. William Duncan Allen, director of the Junior Bach Festival in Berkeley, will be at the piano.

Selyna Hovland is currently a member of the voice faculty at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. She received her B.A. degree in voice from Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota, where she was a soloist with the Concordia College Concert Choir. Miss Hovland toured with that group throughout the United Sttaes, and upon return from their summer Europena tour, she continued her study with the late Phalen Tassie of San Francisco. She received her M.A. degree in voice from San Francisco State University. Miss Hovland has coached with Boris Goldovsky of the New England Conservatory of Music and with George Lawner, formerly of the San Francisco Opera Staff. For the past few years she has presented concerts and recitals throughout the San Francisco Bay Area. Her study with Lili Wexberg of New York began in 1968.

David Doane, tenor, is a native of Richmond, California. He received his B.A. degree in voice from California State University at Hayward. Mr. Doane has appeared in concerts and recitals, in opera theatre productions, and as a church soloist throughout the San Francisco Bay Area. For two years, he directed several choirs, including one summer directing the intermediate choir of the San Francisco By's chorus, and he taught music theory at the East Bay Music Center. This year he has abandoned teaching to devote all of his time to solo recitals and concerts.

William Duncan Allen, pianist, is the musical director of the Berkeley Junior Bach Festival. He received his bachelor and Master's degree from Oberlin. His studies continued at Julliar and with Egon Petri in Poland and England. Mr. Allen accompanied baritone Todd Duncan for ten years, touring the United States, Europe, South America, Australia and Canada. In 1970 he toured the United States with William Warfield. Presnetly, he is president of the Golden Gate Chapter of the Music Teachers Association of California. Mr. Allen is the music editor of The POST.

Tickets for the concert are available through Julia Marlowe's Ticket Office, located within the Sunset Cultural Center, 624-9446. The price of all tickets is $3.

Seaside High Football News

Seaside High Football Coach Howard Hartman will begin football practice August 21 at 9 a.m. Letters have been sent to all last year juniors and seniors. New students and sophomores in the district should report to Seaside High School Office after to pick up the football registration information.

Physicals will start August 14 through August 18 at 3 p.m. in the school gym. Some 200 squad members are expected to report. It is suggested that as many as possible get their physical examination by their own physician. The schools physician, Dr. Taugher, will be unable to examine all 200 students by August 17 for equipment check out.

All members must have completed the football check out procedure before securing uniforms. Coach Hartman plans to check out uniforms August 17 and 18, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Slide Show Is Moved

Color slides entered in the photographic exhibit at the Monterey County Fair and National Horse Show this year will be shown in a new setting.

The former architectural building will house the multiple-screen projection of the slides, accompanied by taped music and commentary.

The black and white prints will be on view in the usual location at the end of the mall, outside of the Horse Show arena.

"We have 20 percent more entries this year," said Bob Christensen, chariman of this part of the Fair's many exhibits. "With amateur photographers from five counties elebible to enter, the quality is really quite high."

Sign-Up For Pop Warner Football

The Seaside Pop Warner Club, was very disappointed at the poor showing of boys for football registration last week. At present there are only 50 boys who have registered this year compared to 135 last year.

They were also disappointed because Fremont Jr. High School had only 3 players registered while King Jr. High had 45. Del Rey Woods, Covell, Manzanita, and Ord Terrace were also disappointing in the fact that only 10 came for physicals.

This is the final call for sign-ups for the Seaside Pop Warner Football Club. All boys between the age of 11 through 14 are welcome to register. Weight must be between 90 to 125 for the Apaches; and 105 to 140 for the Cobras. It is important that you know that if you are going to register for the Cobras, and you are 14, you cannot turn 15 before January 1, 1973. Also, since the Cobras is the only Jr. Bantam Team on the peninsula, boys from Monterey, Ft. Ord, and Marina are eligible to sign up. There is a $5 registration fee.

For more information, contact Mr. Solomon at Young Adults for Action or call 899-2521. The Pop Warner office is at 445 Palm Avenue.

MD Lawyers Will Speak

Medical doctors who are also practicing attorneys are a rarity. However three of these MD JD's will be featured at a California Trial lawyers Association legal seminar in Monterey this Saturday to discuss medical negligence.

Robert Fry, Leo Gelfand and Samuel Shore are all from Los Angeles, all bore the labors of a physician for at least 15 years and all have thoughts of their own on doctor-lawyers.

Says Fry, a former anesthesiologist, "Basically, we have a leg-up on other attorneys practicing law that involves medical problems because we have a thorough knowledge from both sides."

Gelfand was a general practitioning MD for 20 years before he began his law practice. Why did he change professions? "To help bring medicine and its protagonists into line with the modern concepts of fair play."

Once a surgeon, Shore believes that "The increasing number of doctor-lawyers over the past 10 to 15 years has produced a major breakthrough against the long established feeling among physicians that it is wrong to stand up in court if the wrongdoer is a doctor. The doctor-lawyer is gradually helping to diminish this delusion of thought because he is able to bring out the facts more effectively and can help the jury to better understand the seriousness of an injury or disability."

The Saturday seminar, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Del Monte Hyattt House, will feature the three MD-JD's as well as other leading trial lawyers from throughout California in a full day of discussions on medical malpractice.

Advance registration can be obtained by contacting William Bryan, 44 W. Alisal, Salinas, Ca. 93901. Phone 424-0844.

Buckle Up To Stop Accidents

Many motorist are aware that the use of seat belts can minimize the chance for injury in auto wrecks. However, it is not as well known that using seat belts can be a big factor in preventing mishaps.

According to Captain Harold Jones, CHP Commander in Salinas, three major advantages are enjoyed by seat belt users in addition to the injury prevention factor.

First, a driver who is securely strapped in his vehicle can steer the vehicle in an emergency situation without having to use the steering wheel as a handle.

Second, the driver who is securely strapped in can more effectively use the brakes. The best way to stop a car is to press the brake pedal as hard as possible WITHOUT skidding the wheels. A person who is not buckled up cannot accomplish this task because the body weight of the driver will tend to press harder on the brakes as the car slows down.

Third, if the driver and all passengers are securely belted in their seats, they will not fly around in the car during emergency braking or steering. Often an un-belted passenger falls against the driver spoiling any chance for the driver to steer or brake to avoid a wreck.

Captain Jones asks that we consider these factors carefully and reevaluate our seat belt wearing habits. He suggests that the potential savings to each and every one of us can be great--savings in lives and pain, and also the monetary loss of missing work and repairing or replacing our vehicles.

Jeeps In Big Demand

They plan to invest more than $2 million in a program of expansion and modernization of their plant in Toledo, Ohio.

According to Stuart M. Reed, vice president of manufacturing, the expansion program will make possible a rate of 300 units a day when the 1973 models go into production July 31 as compared with 175 a day in May, 1971, and 250 a day in May, 1972.

Reed said the capacity of the body shop would be increased by installation of a mechanized paint selectivity system and a second new paint booth by extending the size of paint ovens and providing for extensive conveyor changes.

Modern automated wheel and tire assembly and balance equipment will be installed, said Reed, as well as a new quality assurance final inspection line.

More consumer service tips from PG&E:

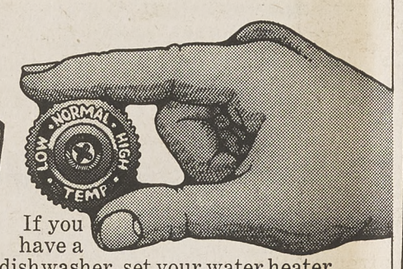
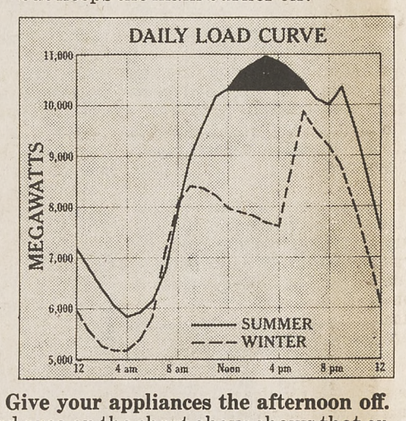
Save your dirty dishes until you have a full load. Whether your dishwasher is full or half empty, it uses the same amount of electricity and it costs about three cents a load to operate. So if you do just one load a day, instead of two, you'll use less energy and save almost a dollar a month on your PG&E bill.



If you have a dishwasher, set your water heater thermostat at 150° or slightly above the "normal" setting. Otherwise 140°, or the "normal" setting, is adequate. Higher settings waste heat. When you go on vacation, set your control to "pilot." This keeps the pilot lighted but keeps the main burner off.



Always use cold water when running your garbage disposer so you don't waste hot water. Also, with cold water, fats don't melt and clog drain pipes after they cool.

Leaky hot water faucets waste energy as well as water. Turn them off completely and repair any leaky ones.

Give your appliances the afternoon off. The shaded area on the chart above shows that on a typical summer day the highest electric energy use by PG&E customers occurs during the afternoon. PG&E has adequate energy to meet this demand. However, if you can conveniently operate some of your appliances at other times, it would conserve energy during this peak load period and would help improve system efficiency.

Referral Program Helps Vets

More than 14,000 retiring servicemen and women are currently registered in the Department of Defense computerized REFERRAL Program and are available for immediate referral to public and private employers for employment consideration, the Department of Defense has announced.

The REFERRAL Program provides for the registration of skills of military personnel who have completed 20 or more years of honorable military service and the referral of their resumes to interested employers in direct support of the "Jobs for Veterans" campaing. It serves also as a means for employers to identify and communicate with experienced and motivated military personnel interested in a second career. There is no charge to the employer or the serviceman for participation in the REFERRAL Program.

Registrants in the program possess a wide variety of professional, technical, trades, administrative and managerial skills. Large numbers of registrants, officials say, are available for jobs in the fields of air-conditioning, aircraft, automotive, computer systems, law enforcement and security, hotel and motel management, telephone and telegraph, personnel, office management, teaching, accounting, banking and finance, hospital and medical, logistics and supply, transportation and various trades and clerical positions, among others.

Inquirires in this locality should be directed to Mr. I.R. Iler, director of the Fort Ord REFERRAL Office in Building 2311. His telephone number is 423-3374.

According to program officials, prospective employers are invited to review the inventory of skills and make their specific job requirements known. Employers may also submit their job requirements directly to the Depatment of Defense Centralized Referral Activity, Defense Electronics Supply Center, ATTN: DESC-RR, Dayton, Ohio 45444. In reply, employers will receive individual resumes of registrants who match the job requirements and who are interested in employment in the geographical area of the job. Employers, at their option, may contact registrants for employment purposes.

Col. Gomez Receives High Honor

The Legion of Merit was presented to Colonel Viviano Gomez during a ceremony held in the Commanding General's Conference Room Wednesday, July 26, by Major General H. G. Moore, Ft. Ord's commanding general.

Colonel Gomez, recently assigned here as the Staff Judge Advocate replacing Lietuenant Colonel J. P. Casey, received the fifth highest medal for his performance of exceptionally meritorious service while serving as the staff judge advocate in the Headquarters, U.S. Army, Hawaii at Schofield Barracks.

During his tour of duty there, he skillfully devoted his outstanding legal and managerial abilities in providing total legal services to the command. He personally fostered new legal procedures, practices and programs, many of which have been adopted by other commands and the Department of the Army.

Colonel Gomez, a native of San Antonio, Texas, entered the Army in 1943 and served in the European Theater during World War II as an enlisted man. He was discharged in 1946 and entered St. Mary's University in San Antonio where he graduated with a Bachelor of Law degree.

He re-entered the Army in 1952 and received his commission at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas and has served tours of duty in Frankfurt, Germany, Ft. Hood, Texas and with the I Field Force in Na Trang, Republic of South Vietnam.

In addition to the Legion of Merit, other awards and medals he has received are the Meritorious Service Medal, Bronze Star and the Army Commendation Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster.

Colonel Gomez makes his home with his wife, Jobita, and their children, Marco, Maria, Juanita and Marisa, at the Presidio of Monterey.

From noon to 12:45 that day, at the Hunter Club Gate only, a pet will admit any child to the Fair free.

Prizes will be awarded for the most unusual pet, the most obedient pet, the best dressed pet and the best performing pet. Everyone showing a pet will receive free tickets for carnival rides.

The 1972 Monterey County Fair and National Horse Show will take place August 9-13 at the Fairgrounds in Monterey and the Pet Show is only one of the special features planned to add variety to the 5-day event.

Ord Soldiers Help Form Music Group

Soldier-musicians of the 28th Army Band turned the good-neighbor policy into reality when they went to the San Jose suburb of Alviso to help form a drum and bugle corps of school-age youngsters.

Brass Ensemble leader Staff Sergeant George Lake, with the help of trombonist Sergeant First Class Albert Chadwick and drummer Specialist Four Larry Maas, journeyed to the Mexican-American borrio just north of the Bayshore Freeway near Moffett Field. They helped spark interest in organizing the musical group by giving marching instructions to 20 Chicano youngsters.

The boys, aged from 10 to 14, were brought together by the "Centro del Salud para Familias." The Family Health Center is the medical and social center of the area and is backed by federal funds from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).

One of the center's staff obtained a number of drums and bugles, and organized the marching unit with the help of Santa Clara Army recruiter Staff Sergeant James J. Sullivan.
